

I oppose the approval of "BPL" as it presently stands. The potential for interference to licensed HF and above spectrum users is too great and the corrective action when interference is encountered is too onerous for the licensed user.

Rather than roll out BPL on such a wide spread basis, it should be carefully tested in just a few locals with interference carefully assessed by a disinterested third party. These test results would be analyzed and used as a basis for the decision for wider BPL deployment.